FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

April 8, 2009

To encourage awareness of everyday sustainability on a date that raises global consciousness, Clay Hill Farm presents Clay Hill Unplugged, an Earth Day event to celebrate eco-friendly initiatives on a local level. Hors d'oeuvres and local food tastings, acoustic music and informal chats on empowering environmental topics will bring foodies, earth-friendly folk and lovers of acoustic music together for an evening of social awareness, networking, entertainment and reflection.

Earth Day is Wednesday, April 22nd and Clay Hill Unplugged starts at 5:30pm with a candlelit celebration of local resources, local music and local food.

Continuing the message of Clay Hill Farm's 2009 Green Wedding Giveaway contest, www.greenweddinggiveaway.com, the theme of Clay Hill Unplugged is that We are all green in some way, so pick your shade and shout it to the world™. Jonathan Blakeslee and Joelle Guerard, the 2009 Green Wedding Giveaway winners, will be on-hand to meet and greet the attendees. Blakeslee will also be one of the acoustic musicians and a company sponsor of the event with White Heron Tea. Also performing are The Sea Captains and Pat Keane classical guitar. Eco-friendly chats and resourcing by Michelle Moon of Slow Food Seacoast, Sarah Brown of The Green Alliance and John Forti of Strawbery Banke will also be part of the event. Spring preview tastings will be offered by Silvery Moon Creamery and Andy's Greens.

Advanced tickets for Clay Hill Unplugged are $15 with reservation: 207-361-2272 or $18 at the door. Raffle prize proceeds will benefit the Kevin Brown Memorial Fuel Assistance Fund.
